We Planted Trees in Israel in Celebration of Tu B'Shevat

Our member Herb Siegel had the wonderful idea to plant trees in Israel in observance of Tu B'Shevat, the new year of the trees.

An email was sent to our members, with this link to the Jewish National Foundation, where trees can be ordered.

The following 11 families donated 30 trees:

Herb Siegel, Linda Kost, Andrea and Burt Kraft, Kathy Gipe, Marnell LaRoe Hayes, Judy Mayer, Ken Stark, Marjorie Heyman, Priscilla Reisinger, Diane Weinbaum, Michael and Sheila Saks.

It's not too late! If you order a tree, please email Linda at president-at-bethsholomflorida.org (replace -at- with @) and she will add it to our total count.

Rabbi's Message

Passover was always my favorite holiday as a child. It may have been because of the wonderful songs we sang and the fresh new clothes, many of which my mother made, that we wore at the seder, or the special foods we ate only during that time. It was highlighted by the excitement of 23 family members gathered around my grandmother's enormous basement table, reading from and explaining the Haggadah, in a banquet paradise that included a second kitchen and the 9-foot grand piano in whose bench I discovered the books that opened the magical world of music to me.

Perhaps my most indelible Pesach memory is the privilege of chanting what my Yiddish-speaking family called the fier kashes, the Four Questions, when I, though the eldest rather than the youngest cousin, was the first to learn them. It was a moment of reckoning, a rite of passage, one of my earliest experiences of standing before loved ones to share what I had learned. I remember being nervous, but proud of contributing in a meaningful way to a very significant family event.

That feeling of the anticipation and satisfaction of service has endured, and still guides me every time I stand before you.

Because Congregation Beth Sholom is our spiritual family, sharing the Passover seder together is just as important as it was for us to be with our families as children.

We wanted to let the children of our religious school know how essential they are to our enjoyment of the holiday. In this spirit, I have let the families of the religious school know that all of our students will be sponsored by us, at our Congregation Beth Sholom family seder, and will be honored with the recitation of the Four Questions.

Please plan to have your family with us, too, to create together the unforgettable holiday memories that will remain with them and with us throughout what will, G-d willing, be a long, healthy and happy lifetime -- with love and blessings for a ziessen Pesach, a sweet Passover –

Rabbi Karen Allen 386-676-5157

The President's Message

Wow, my head is spinning! We have so much happening at this time of year, it's wonderful. At the same time as I am writing this, I am preparing for this week's two events: The special roundtable on Thursday, February 23rd, when members of The Interfaith Council of Lake County will be our guests at the synagogue; and our Saturday morning service on February 25th when our member, Stephen Berger, will unveil a memorial plaque for his wife, Peni Susan Berger.

Our calendar is full of activity!

We will learn: Our adult education is starting on February 27, when our Gabbai, Marsha Stemerman, will be teaching a 4 week class titled 'Exploring Judaism'. Following that class, Dr. Marnell LaRoe Hayes will resume Hebrew classes on March 27. More information is on page 8.

We will be entertained: Sunday, March 5th is the wonderful concert, when Rabbi Allen and violinist Zoriv Zinger will enchant us with a new musical production entitled 'An International Songbook'. As the name suggests, they will entertain us with a variety of popular music from classical pieces to familiar international songs that have become standards. You are sure to leave humming some of your all-time favorite melodies. (see page 6).

We will celebrate Holidays: Purim on Friday, March 10, with a pot luck dinner, and the reading of the Megillah during our Shabbat service; Passover on the second night, led by Rabbi Allen, with a wonderful Kosher meal catered by Deanna's Catering.

Our spiritual life at Congregation Beth Sholom is about doing so many things together.

I hope to see you at these events!

Linda

Leesburg Food Bank

Board Director Barry Wright volunteers at the Leesburg Food Bank. He delivers the donations of food, clothing, and household items that we collect at services. He wrote this article about the inner workings of the Food Bank.

Today is Thursday, on my way to the Leesburg Food Bank I stop off at Beth Sholom and pick up whatever items are there for the Leesburg Food Bank. Usually clothes and non-perishable food. At 8:30AM I arrive at the Food Bank. The Food Bank is two blocks from the shul. I unload the items and take them in to the Food Bank. The food is weighed and the weight is put on a receipt for Beth Sholom and that information is recorded by date in a book of donations. Then usually within a few minutes the Leesburg Food Bank refrigerator truck arrives and unloads the pick ups from that morning from Publix's (4 of them) and Winn Dixie also sometimes Aldi's and Save A Lot. All this has to be weighed and logged based on where it came from. This is a requirement of Second Harvest Food Bank of Central Florida that oversees all of the Food Banks. The food is separated into meat, groceries, deli and baked goods. This is all logged based on where it came from. This process is only a few months old. This started when the food bank got a grant from Publix plus their matching funds so they were able to get the refrigerated truck. This is the only way the food stores will give the food out to make sure it does not go bad.

An important note, no one at the food bank gets paid from the President to the daily volunteers. The key people are very conscientious and hard working people. Most of them work at least 4 days a week. As an example, the person who does the pick up of the food from the food stores gets up at 3:30AM every day to do this pick up and has done this for years.

Then the real work begins. All the food has to be separated into boxes based on beef, pork, chicken, lamb, hams and beef patties. They are boxed and dated with today's date. They are then put into this huge freezer by date. By doing this the Food Bank saves the money they would spend to purchase these items. All the freezer food is checked and the bar code crossed out so it does not end up back in the store. If any of the food is found to be bad it goes to the pig farmer.

While this is going on, donations arrive at the door and they are taken, weighed and a receipt is provided when requested. All the donations coming in at the door are put aside and when time is available they are taken and dated. That means that the date is good, otherwise that goes to the pig farm. Depending on the item the date may have expired. In a lot of cases those items are still good based on a reference book that is available. Brenda, my boss, is in charge of the food warehouse area and she has the book memorized so it is easier to ask her. It is amazing how long some things are good for.

After the items are dated, they are then put in their place. The warehouse is always in a state of flux, because when they end up with a big delivery of food, which can be from a food store or Second Harvest, a place has to be found to store it. While this is all going on, in the front of the Food Bank they are handling the people that come in for food, clothes, furniture and anything else that may be available. Remember they take almost any donation and they provide all this to the people they serve totally FREE of charge.

The Leesburg Food Bank is located 2 blocks north of the synagogue at 503 N 13th Street. The Food Bank is non-denominational. They serve the community from 10AM to 12PM Monday through Thursday. You may drop off food, clothing, furniture, books, etc. from 8:30AM till 12PM Monday through Thursday. If it is too big to bring yourself please contact them at 352-326-5463 and they will pick it up. Pick up is Monday thru Saturday. If you have small items you may also drop them off at Beth Sholom and they will be taken to the Food Bank.

The Food Bank does not charge any fees for the items they provide to their clients. They handle 35 - 40 families a day. They also work with seniors and the homeless.

Take advantage of the BOGO specials at Publix when you go and pick up the extra one for the food bank.

Please provide reasonable size food items, because they have no way to break them down.

Thank you so much for all of the donations.
