Rabbi's Message

Every Jew will eventually return to G-d, either in this incarnation or another

– Rabbi Schneur Zalman

During the past few weeks, congregants have shared with me more descriptions of visitations to them, from departed relatives and loved ones, than I have heard in all my years in the rabbinate combined.

The visits of which they speak have occurred most commonly in their dreams, but take place also during times of complete wakeful consciousness, or in the “twilight” time between sleep and waking.

The narratives are surprisingly similar. Some departed family members seem able to reach hologram-like hands through otherwise non-existent windows in the middle of their living relatives’ bedrooms, before disappearing without a trace other than the memory. Other friends and family, no longer living, have seemingly been able to knock solid objects off of perfectly level tables; turn lights on and off repeatedly; generate ringing phones and other sounds, without anyone on the line or any other evident cause; appear at the door of the congregant’s home to “visit”; and render various displays of communication highlighting important elements of the unique relationship that existed between the host and the departed loved one during his or her lifetime on earth.

I don’t have a simple explanation for why these occurrences are suddenly increasing so dramatically in frequency, intensity and realism. Incidents that would have been dismissed as impossible years ago are now widely accepted as within the realm of normalcy.

The teachings of the Jewish spiritual masters, made available to the lay public only during the past few decades, are now being affirmed in the lives of the Jewish people: that our mortal bodies are only temporary vehicles for our immortal souls, sparks of light and love created by a loving G-d, that remain on this earth after our lifetimes.

I am honored, humbled and grateful for your trust in sharing with me these very personal and meaningful experiences of loved ones visiting from the World to Come, which we now understand is the Garden of Eden, Heaven right here on earth.

May this growing awareness of the bond between this world and the next serve to bring us more closely and consciously into the presence of our G-d who does not require our belief, but brings it miraculously and vividly to life!

With love and blessings – Rabbi Karen Allen 386-676-5157

The President's Message

Today I sat down to write a message to the members of Congregation Beth Sholom, and had no idea where to begin. So I decided to start with our moving to Yalaha. My husband, Barry and I joined in 2015 after we moved and settled into Lake County. We found a small synagogue which was a breath of fresh air. We came from a large synagogue in Miami, Florida. We had been there for over two decades. Made many friends, was very active in both Sisterhood and on the Congregations Board of Directors.

Barry became involved with the Leesburg Food Bank. Food-banks are his passion. In fact, in Miami, he was the liaison to the Kosher Food Bank. Now, he volunteers one day a week here at the Leesburg Food Bank. Eventually, he became a member of our Board of Directors. I on the other hand took a back seat and only attended Board meetings. I met the board members and got close to two of the couples. We socialized and a couple of times took cruises together. It really is a family here.

Skip forward a few years and Linda has moved farther away and after 7+ years she wants to spend more time with her husband John.

To make this possible she stepped down and asked me to step up to the plate. In order for me to become President, my husband Barry had to step down from his director position, as our bylaws allow only one board member from each family. He will, however, remain as the liaison to the Leesburg Food Bank. We had one more change to the board. At the Annual Meeting, Vice President Burt Kraft stepped down for health reasons. I immediately appointed Andrea Kraft to fulfill his term as Vice President.

Now remember we came from a large synagogue.

That translates to an Executive Director a full staff who oversees the facility, etc. To get things done there you would call the Executive Director and she would get everything done.

Here with 132 members we need to rely on each other to fill the void of not having a professional staff. One good thing is we still have Linda. Her knowledge is the thread which will carry us through the year. Hopefully by then we will have a smooth running group of volunteers.

We have exciting news. Martin Sandler, who recently rejoined our congregation, is providing us with a new Ark, designed and built by him. Our only cost is to pay for materials. Martin built the beautiful wooden valence that adorns our bima. Two families have already made donations towards the cost of the materials for the ark. Thank you so much to Ben & Marion Solotoroff and Chip & Francine Rizzotto for taking that initiative with their generous donations. It would be wonderful if more people contribute toward the cost.

Our other news is that Sisterhood is back! Read the details on page 2. For more info, contact Dee Marcus at 352-750-8086.

I look forward to seeing and speaking to all of our members and guests.

Shalom,
Cookie Wright, President

Leesburg Food Bank, written by Barry Wright

The last time I wrote an article about the food bank was August 2018. At that time, the food bank was close to the lowest point of the year for donations. We had 100's of empty crates that are used for the food to be stored in the warehouse. Since then many changes have happened. The snow birds are back and their donations were incredible for November, December and January. Once the holidays are over people forget that there is a year round need for food for the local community. Unfortunately, that need only increases over time. That need includes more seniors, ex military and homeless. At this point, most of the crates are full with food waiting to be used for those that need it. The snow birds will be leaving soon and the donations will decline and the empty crates will grow again. PLEASE REMEMBER DONATIONS ARE NEEDED THROUGH OUT THE YEAR. The food donations from Beth Sholom for 2018 were less then 2017. Please help fix that problem. We did see a significant increase of donations of clothing from the congregation, which is definitely needed.

The nice thing is that we now have 3 members of the congregation that work there on a regular basis. Besides myself, there is Ronnie Goeler and President Cookie Wright. Last year at times Rosalie Scholl and 2 of her daughters came in and helped out. This is great. I know Cookie finds it satisfying to also work there. In case any one else would like to help please let us know. In a few months we will lose the snow bird volunteers. Then there will be a greater need for volunteers.

Please remember that the Food Bank takes just about anything that they then give out free. The Food Bank takes in food, clothes, furniture and appliances. It is coming up to Spring Cleaning time. Go through your drawers and closets. When was the last time you wore that item? Has it been years? If the answer is yes. Donate it.

An important note, no one at the food bank gets paid from the President to the daily volunteers. The key people are very conscientious and hard working people. Most of them work at least 4 days a week. As an example, the person who does the pick up of the food from the food stores gets up at 3:30AM every day to do this pick up and has done this for years.

Remember they provide all this to the people they serve totally FREE of charge.

The Leesburg Food Bank is located 2 blocks north of the synagogue at 503 N.13th Street. The Food Bank is non-denominational. They serve the community from 10AM to 12PM Monday through Thursday. You may drop off food, clothing, furniture, books, etc. from 8:30AM till 12PM Monday through Thursday. If it is too big to bring yourself please contact them at 352-326-5463 and they will pick it up. Pick up is Monday thru Saturday. If you have small items you may also drop them off at Beth Sholom and they will be taken to the Food Bank. The Food Bank does not charge any fees for the items they provide to their clients. They handle 35 - 40 families a day. They also work with seniors and the homeless.

Take advantage of the BOGO specials at Publix when you go and pick up the extra one for the food bank.

Please provide reasonable size food items, because they have no way to break them down.

Thank you to everyone who has donated clothing, food, and household items to the Leesburg Food Bank.

Please bring something with you for The Food Bank every time you come to the synagogue.

Honors Given at the Board Recognition Service

Dr. Marnell LaRoe Hayes was given a signed and numbered print of batik artwork by Israeli artist Amos Amit for the work she has done for the shul over the years. Marnell was on the Board of Directors for 4 years, she is the Assistant Gabbai, she conducted a Challah baking class twice, she has been teaching the How to Read Hebrew class for 4 years, she entertains us at our Chanukah party, bakes for us often, and steps in whenever she is asked to help. Well Done, Marnell!

Marnell presented a gift from the congregation to President Emeritus Linda Kost, saying that it was "to celebrate your many accomplishments as President of Congregation Beth Sholom for the past seven years, but most of all, to celebrate that which distinguishes you most especially—the love you demonstrate for what you and others call "The synagogue that feels like family." The gift is a beautiful necklace handmade in Israel. A gold blossom set with a single pearl sits on a swirl of silver engraved in Hebrew with "A woman of valor, who can find? Far beyond pearls is her value". The gift turned out to have special significance, as Linda's father chose 'A Woman of Valor' for Linda's mother's headstone.
